Temporary Princeton Station Opens August 26

On August 26, Princeton Station will open in a new, temporary location accessible via Alexander Street.

To prepare for the shift from the University Place to Alexander Street station, rail service to University Place will end on Aug. 23, and riders will be serviced by NJ TRANSIT buses Aug. 24 and 25.

For detailed information about rail service, bus service, parking, taxis, and bike facilities at the new station location, please click here.

For additional information about the Arts and Transit project, go to www.princeton.edu/artsandtransit.

If you have questions, please email or call 609-258-8023.
